FATALITIES

Fatal accident to Michael Nichols (age 23, single), Westernport, Maryland, at the tipple of Moran Coal Company, Inc., located at the north end of Westernport

Mr. Nichols had been employed about 3 months as a truck weighman. Don Moran, one of the owners of the company, had instructed him in the duties of weighman, which were to weigh truckloads of coal and pick rock from coal after it was dumped on the ground.

On the morning of the accident, the tipple crew and Mr. Nichols had started to work in their respective jobs at 7:00 a.m. as usual. At noon the tipple crew finished loading the railroad cars and left the area. Mr. Nichols remained.

According to Don Moran he visited the job at 1:00 p.m., and Mr. Nichols was cleaning the track where the haulroad crosses. Mr. Moran instructed him to pick rock from coal when the trucks dumped, as well as weigh the trucks. Mr. Moran then left to check the source of "dirty" coal.

At about 1:45 p.m. Robert Conor, independent trucker hauling from Clise Coal Company to the above tipple, saw Mr. Nichols cleaning off a platform (44 ft. from site of fatality). Mr. Conor was the last to see the victim alive.

Aubrey Fairgrieve, independent trucker hauling from Clise Coal Company to Moran's tipple, saw Mr. Nichols caught in the beltline return roller a few minutes after 2:00 p.m. as he approached the scales with a load of coal. He ran over and shut the belt off and then checked Mr. Nichols and saw that he could do nothing. He ran to the scale house and telephoned the company office, who, in turn, called the Rescue Squad (call received at 2:17 p.m.)

The Rescue Squad arrived at the scene before Mr. Fairgrieve got back from the telephone.

The Rescue Squad found the victim caught between belt and return roller with both arms over and hanging down (toward drive end). His head was back over the right shoulder, and his clothing was pulled up over his back and tangled in the roller. They had to cut part of his clothing to get him out. As nearly as they could tell, the victim was dead.

None of the officials or employees could understand why the deceased was operating the belt conveyor. The return roller bearings were bad and in need of replacement. Whether or not the deceased may have been tampering with the roller is not known.

RECOMMENDATION: Employees should be thoroughly indoctrinated in exposure hazards, especially in the area of their work.

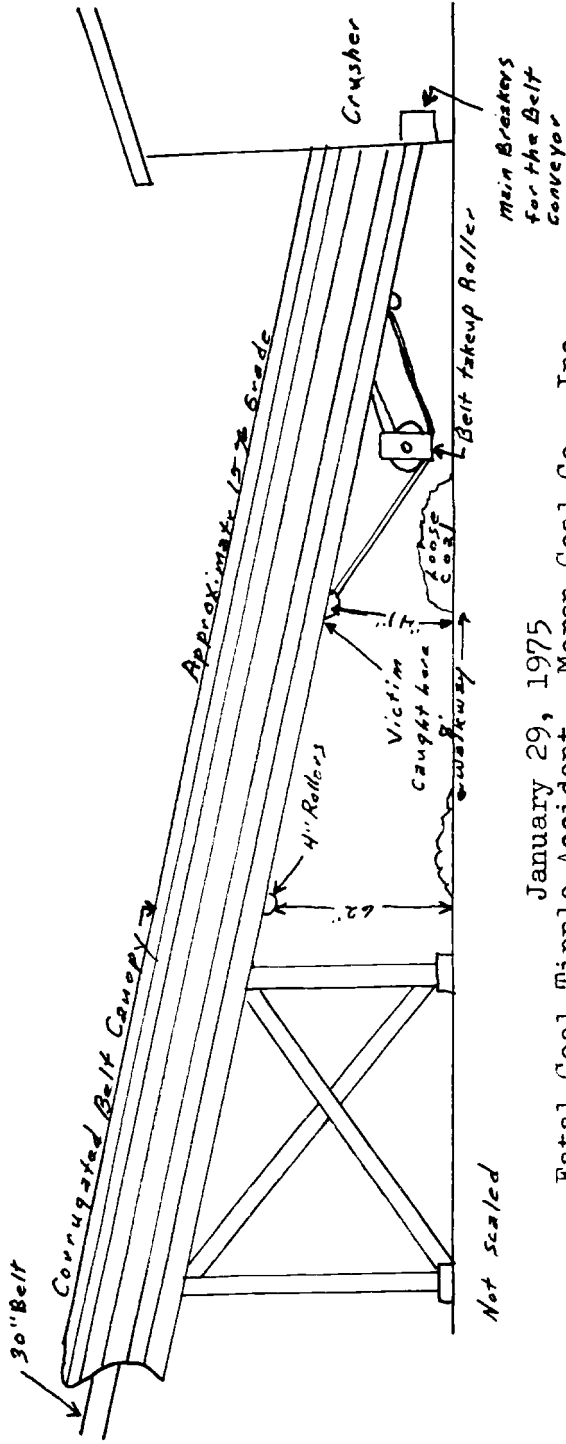

Moving parts of stationary equipment within seven feet (7 ft.) of the ground or walkway should be guarded or fenced off.

REVEGETATION OF STRIP-MINED REGION

By Fred L. Bagley

Revegetation was accomplished at a record pace in 1975. This occurred because of two reasons. First, the Land Reclamation Committee scrutinized the revegetation accomplishments of each coal company in conjunction with their annual progress report and demanded more and better revegetation accomplishments. Secondly, because of market conditions more strip mining permits were issued, consequently more acres were strip mined during the year.

During 1975, one thousand one hundred and one acres were revegetated. However the acres revegetated during 1975 cannot be considered for bond release until 1977 because of the two-year holding period required by law.

Eight hundred and twenty-one acres of strip mined land revegetated during 1973 were considered for revegetation bond release during 1975. Three hundred and ninety-six acres of this total were approved for release, and the remaining four hundred and twenty-five acres were not released. The reasons for not releasing the acres are either because more evaluation of the vegetation is needed; or, on a few permits, because corrective action is needed.

The actual revegetation costs for the year should be broken down into three different categories. They are as follows, using average data supplied to the Bureau of Mines:

Coal Operator Doing His Own Revegetation

Total per acre $213.00

State of Maryland Doing the Revegetation Work

Total per acre $250.00

Private Contractor Doing the Revegetation Work

Total per acre $450.00

The cost must certainly be considered in revegetation, but the success of the revegetation is far more important.

Contract revegetation has occurred only in the past two years in Maryland. It is too early to make a just evaluation of their work; however, to date partial success has been obtained.

The operator's revegetation work has improved steadily each year. They are realizing the importance of saving topsoil, preparing a seed bed, increasing the seed rate, using sufficient mulching material and having competent supervision in accomplishing their revegetation work.

The State of Maryland has done limited revegetation work and has been relatively successful. This success has been attributed primarily to better overall supervision and control of the entire revegetation procedure.

In conclusion, revegetation of strip mined areas in 1975 was a primary consideration of the Land Reclamation Committee and its member agencies. Costs fluctuated, and different degrees of success were obtained. However, through experience and research projects more data is gathered and better revegetation is achieved. This trend will be maintained and very possibly be accelerated in the coming year.

Meetings and Time

The Land Reclamation Committee put in fourteen committee days during the year. The committee meets on the second Wednesday of each month at the City Building at Westernport, Maryland. Meetings begin at 9:00 a.m. and carry through to completion of the business before the committee. All meetings are open to the public and are announced in the Maryland Register and local papers.

Functions and Duties of The Committee

The Land Reclamation Committee oversees land reclamation activities related to the surface mining of bituminous coal in Maryland. It is specifically directed by statute (Annotated Code of Maryland, Section 7-205/b/) to: “. . . study, recommend, and approve all procedures for reclamation, conservation, and revegetation of any area affected by open-pit mining within the state . . .”

Some of the more important specific duties addressed by the committee during its monthly meetings are:

1. Review, modification, and approval of the mining and reclamation plans.
2. Review and approval of all Annual Mining and Reclamation Progress Reports and Final Reports.
3. Establish amount of revegetation bond for each operation.
4. Inspect all areas for which application is made to determine adequacy of the mining and reclamation plan.

The Site Evaluation Committee functions as a subcommittee of the Land Reclamation Committee and is composed of all members except the Chairman. The Site Evaluation Committee schedules about two days each month to visit sites for which mining and reclamation plans have been filed to determine the suitability of the plan. The Site Evaluation Committee also examines sites for purposes of approval of annual progress reports and final reports.

Status of Reclamation

As can be seen in the Summary of Mining and Reclamation Statistics, 1971-1975 (Table No. 2), the acreage permitted in 1975 is about equivalent to the cumulative acreage permitted from 1971 to 1973. The number of acres stripped in 1975 was also greater than in previous years. It is significant to note that the number of acres backfilled in 1975 is almost equivalent to the acres stripped, which indicates that the backfilling operations are beginning to keep concurrent with the mining operations. Perhaps more significant still is the fact that in 1975, for the first time, more acres have been planted (961) than have been backfilled (881) or stripped (887). This indicates that planting is beginning to catch up to backfilling in the reclamation cycle. The Land Reclamation Committee requires that vegetation go through two growing seasons (two years) before planting is approved. Moreover, at least 80% cover of vegetation must be established in order to be approved. We are concerned that no revegetation areas had been approved in 1975; but by the end of the year the State Forester had tentatively approved 404 acres for release.

On sites where revegetation has not been successful, the committee requires that the site be replanted and the revegetation bond will remain in force and effect until such time that adequate vegetation is established.

The saving of top soil and spreading it on the backfilled site has improved immeasurably the success of vegetative growth on the reclaimed sites.

Other Activities of The Land Reclamation Committee

In addition to those activities summarized in Table No. 2 covering the past Mining and Reclamation Statistics, the Land Reclamation Committee engaged in the following:

1. Assisted in conducting tours of mining and reclamation sites for the General Assembly and the Tri-County Council.
2. Developed a report in cooperation with the Bureau of Mines and the Maryland Geological Survey on the effects of mining in the Cherry Creek Basin for the Garrett County Zoning Commission.
3. Developed revised regulations in regard to application procedures and coordination with other regulatory bodies.
4. Approved continuation of a $600 per acre revegetation bond.
5. Approved procedure to announce proposal to release revegetated acres in Maryland Register.
6. Initiated press release at conclusion of each meeting summarizing actions of the committee.
