New Education Requirement

Effective July 1, 2025, all water and wastewater operators in Maryland must complete the EPA's Cybersecurity Training for Water and Wastewater Systems as part of their certification renewal process. This training is free, available online, and designed to help users understand and implement critical cybersecurity measures to safeguard water systems against evolving threats. For more information, click this link to access the Cybersecurity Training Page.